

Real Estate Project Rules

1. Students must attend every school day for the duration of the real estate project.
2. Partners must work on all assignments together; dividing the assignments will lessen the learning experience for each participant.
3. During class project time on the computers or laptops, students must be working on their project at all times. Looking at other websites unrelated to the project, surfing the net, and/or playing games on the Internet will cost you participation points and may cause you to lose your privilege of using the computer that day.
4. Both partners must have copies and access to all electronic assignments, every day. If your partner is absent, you must still be able to do the work! If you can't, you will lose points. See below.
5. All major assignment deadlines are code red, no exceptions.
6. All assignments must be saved in two places each time you work on them: the hard drive or login of the computer, Google Docs, flash drive and/or e-mail.
7. All students will earn individual daily participation points throughout the duration of this project. These points will be given out by each teacher, 10 points per period, per day. BY the end of the project, you should have earned somewhere around a total of 200 participation points PER CLASS! These add up! Teachers will automatically take away participation points at their discretion for any of the following:
  - Being absent (Even if it's excused, you will lose points that day! Come to school!)
  - Using computer for anything other than project-related work (no e-mail, games, surfing net)
  - Being too loud or disruptive during project class time
  - One partner not working while other one is. Be responsible for your partner, you can lose points if your partner is not on task!
  - Not being prepared to work because your partner "has your stuff."
  - Being out of seat without teacher approval/wandering or disrupting other groups
